BUTTE, MONT.

By Jesse H. Smith.

Butte is enjoying good weather once more, although there was a heavy snow fall last week, but the worst of the winter is over. We are proud to have with us First Lieut. Frank A. Pearl of Camp Funston, who is visiting his mother for a few days; Lieut. Pearl was reared in this city, leaving here when quite a lad, entering Howard University at Washington D. C., where he graduated two years ago, receiving his diploma as a Surgical Physician, after leaving college he started on his business career in Atchison, Kans., his birth place and was known as Dr. Pearl. When the U. S. called for valiant hearted men to enlist and fight for the country, our Lieut. Pearl gladly went to the front and is now waiting on Uncle Sam for further orders. We wish him and all the other boys who have and are preparing to serve this country that victory will be theirs. Lieut. Pearl is being highly entertained while in the city, he being tendered a reception by the one most dear to his heart (mother), Tuesday night at the A. M. E. church. A large number of his friends were present and enjoyed the evening with our Lieut. Pearl. At a late hour a delicious lunch was served. Mrs. R. E. Lee entertained Thursday night at her home in honor of Lieut. Pearl. Cards and dancing was the pleasures of the evening and at a late hour lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Walton entertained Friday at a beautifully appointed dinner in honor of Lieut. Pearl; covers were laid for seven and a delightful afternoon was spent; those present were Lieut. Pearl, Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Shannon and the host and hostess. Lieut. Pearl left Friday night over the Burlington for Camp Funston, Kans. The Sunshine Mission met with Mrs. J. E. Campbell, Wednesday on California St. A large number were present and all enjoyed a delicious lunch afterwards. The children are preparing to have a fine program for Easter. We all like to hear the children and they are proud when they can entertain us. John (fatty) Carter died last week in Anacanda, after a lingering illness. We are glad to report all the sick as much improved. Mrs. E. W. Lee expects to leave Sunday for Minneapolis to join her husband. Mr. Geo. Phelps has gone to Waterloo for a few days. The Peter Ogden entertainment given Friday night in the hall by the men of the different branches of the G. U. O. of O. F. was a decided success and all enjoyed the evening to the highest; the program has opened a shining parlor at 5 N. Mont and is doing excellent work. More boys are needed. Everybody's News Stand is doing a good business and carries every thing that is worth while in the paper line, stop in and look things over.

LINCOLN, NEBR.

By W. W. Mosley.

Mrs. Lizzie M., wife of Alonzo E. Hale, died at their home, 917 N. 18th St. Wednesday at 7:30 P. M., of acute indigestion, which occurred shortly after eating supper; the husband, son and attendant being present. Friends when receiving the news of her sudden death, were shocked for many did not know she was sick. Mrs. Hale had a peculiar sore on one of her lower limbs, from which she had suffered many years, how badly, no one knows but her. Recently, Mrs. Hale had become bloated all over, being fatigued easily, and short breathed, and no doubt dropsy had set in from effects of bad blood from this sore. Her case, was a peculiar one. She leaves to mourn her loss, a husband, son, one sister, brother, father, sister-in-laws and many friends. The funeral was held from Mt. Zion Baptist Church Sunday at 3 P. M., Rev. O. J. Berchardt preached. She was a member of Mt. Zion Baptist Church and was considered a good Christian character, having spent half of her life as such, her age being forth four at her death. The services were impressive; relatives attending were Mrs. Gordon and husband, her sister at Omaha; Benj. Stevenson, father from K. C. K., and sister-in-laws, Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Stone of Kansas City, Kans. A large crowd of friends were present to repay last respects to the deceased; floral offerings were immense. We extend Mr. A. E. Hale and son our heartfelt sympathy in their hour of bereavement. When wife and mother are gone, home is not like it used to be. Christine Codwin, aged 17, died at the home of Mr. J. W. Bedell last Saturday at 8 P. M. of tuberculosis, after some illness. The parents will accompany the body to their home in Kansas City, Mo., Tuesday, where burial will take place. Mrs. Anna Sharpstein, aged seventy years, died at her home, 2232 S. 8th St. Sunday about 6 P. M. of pneumonia, after several weeks illness. Deceased was the sister of Major Moore and the late George Pleasant. The daughters, Tillie and Lillian Miller, are in Arizona; the body is being held at Castle; Hoper & Matthews, undertakers, awaiting the arrival of the daughters with the body. Geo. Miller, who died in Arizona recently. Magnolia Court will observe Palm Sunday after March 24 in Masonic Hall. Rev. J. H. Brooks of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting his wife in the city. He preached for Mt. Zion Baptist Church last Sunday and his speaking was much enjoyed. Mt. Zion Sunday school will hold Easter exercises Sunday afternoon, March 31, instead of evening.

HELENA, MONT.

The National Association for the advancement of Colored People is asking for Branches in this state. Why don't we get together as a People and organize a branch? Mr. H. J. Baker, Misses Katie and Mary Brown were on the sick list last week. Mrs. Alice Howard made a business trip to Livingston on the 7th. Do you know the value of organizing? Then why don't we organize a Political Club and be a power in helping run our city? Election next month, what about the gentlemen who laughed at our faces two years ago when we protested against the Birth of a Nation? He is asking for your vote and if you don't vote you are voting for him. Mr. Claude Polk and Mr. C. H. Harrell have bought lovely bungalows on the east side. OUR TIRESOME PROGRAMS.

By Joe E. Herriford.

It may be safely said that practically all programs prepared by our people for public entertainment are twice as long as they ought to be. Our program makers apparently proceed upon the theory that the day of the intended event is to be the last before Judgment and there will be no subsequent opportunity to display the great array of brilliant talent.

It is seldom that one has the pleasure of listening to bright, well balanced programs of decent length.

If the program is really planned to be shorter than ordinary the master of ceremonies usually thwarts this plan either by taking up an equal amount of time through his own brilliant effusions or by "noting the presence" of some shining light in the audience and inviting him forward "to say a few words"—anything to break the otherwise enjoyment of the occasion and prolong the period of endurance.

It is getting to be quite a custom nowadays to have each person on the program to be ready with an encore of a length equal to the number set down on the card and to render this encore upon the slightest provocation. There is no longer any difference between applause and an encore, that is our program makers think there isn't. This makes a program of twelve numbers—which is much too long already—consist of an endurance test of twenty-four numbers, which is a direful infliction.

After the war we shall have a law regulating masters of ceremonies. No program is ever complete without the absolute necessity of someone injecting himself for the purpose of making some important announcements. Although the announcer promises at the beginning that he will only occupy a minute, he is only joking, and proceeds through the maze of much circumlocution and verbal perambulation to take up twenty minutes, much to the impatient uneasiness of those who ought to have been home an hour ago. The announcer is a great evil and ought to be remembered the advertising columns of the Sun more than he does. If he insists upon existing, he ought to be made to take out auctioneer's license.

The average church service is open to the same criticism. It begins but does not end. It just breaks up. If a visiting preacher occupies the pulpit and renders the sermon it is usually too long in the first place and is entirely spoiled by an "after-talk" which he usually asks to be permitted to make and for which he ought to be heavily fined.

Here the unlicensed announcer again makes his appearance and finishes the wearing-out process upon the congregation. Perhaps some promoter is present in the congregation uneasily awaiting his turn to "occupy a minute," and by the time he gets through, a great part of the congregation has slipped out not to return for a long time. That is why so many people lose interest in church-going, and they are really not to be blamed. They depart from the meeting without any spiritual benefit and without any higher respect for religious service.

The undeniable fact that these evils are never seen except at gatherings of colored people indicates that they are purely racial and that we are just that far behind the times. It also shows that we are deficient in the psychological laws of intellectual and spiritual pleasure and that eternal fitness is out of our line of thinking.

WILLIAMS-STEVENSON NUPTIALS

A notable event of last week was the wedding of Miss Grace Williams and Mr. Julius Stevenson which took place at St. James A. M. E. Church, Thursday evening, February 28. Promptly at 6:30 p. m. the organ pealed forth the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the matron of honor emerged from the lecture room and the bridal procession began.

The bride was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man. The marriage ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. W. C. Williams of Omaha, Neb., assisted by Rev. W. H. Peck.

After the marriage vows were solemnized, Prof. Gerald Tyler supervisor of music in the Colored schools rendered a solo, after which Dr. Peck delivered a brief, but impressive wedding discourse. As the sweet strains of Lohengrin wafted gently over the heads of the immense audience, the happy couple left the church and repaired to their future home where a brilliant reception was held.

The bride wore an elaborate creation of Silver-glow Charmeuse and lace. Her veil was fastened with bands of ribbon and hung in graceful folds. She carried a huge shower bouquet of bride's roses, Mrs. Bessie Parker, the matron of honor wore an exquisite gown of Brocade Satin de Luxe, with picture hat of Peach Crepe de Chine. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The presents were numerous, costly and useful. Among the most conspicuous were a magnificent mahogany piano, the bridegroom's gift to his bride; a handsome chest of silver from the teachers of Simmons school, a large picture from the normal class of the bride, a beautiful mahogany clock from the members of the church choir, and a silver card receiver from the stewardesses of the Omaha church.

of which the bride's father is pastor. There was a large assortment of linen, cut glass, silver, pictures and hand painted china galore. The bride is one of our most popular and talented girls. She was a teacher in Simmons school, a musician of note, a sweet soprano singer, and Superintendent of the Primary Department of St. James A. M. E. Church Sunday School.

The bridegroom is a talented young man of character. He has held the position of chemist in the Sanitol Laboratories for years.—St. Louis Argus.
